The general advance in the price of flour is felt in Edmonton. Strong bakers $2.50 to $3.00 and patent process from $2.75 to $3.25. Dealers say that the increased cost to them within the month is 70 cents per sack. Native flour has increased from $2.00 to $2.50.

R. DISWOODIE, manager of the creamery company, reports that the company has already been promised the cream of 400 cows, to begin operations on, and this number will very likely be largely increased as the season progresses. The company hauls the cream, makes the butter and supplies the packages in which it is placed, and for these services charges the farmers 5c for each pound of butter made. If the farmer does not pay the 5c a pound the company sells the butter and after deducting 5c a pound from the price returns the remainder to the farmer.
R. RANDOLPH BRUCE has located the spur line to leave the C. & E. line about a mile south of South Edmonton station and enter the valley of the Little Mill creek, following the bottom of the valley of the Little and Big Mill creeks to the Mill flat opposite town, terminating the line at the proposed bridge site on the bank of the creamery property. The total length of line from the bank of the river to the railway line is given as 190 chains, and maximum grade one and a half per cent. Mr. Bruce did not leave on Friday's train as was expected as he had not completed the work, but will probably go to-morrow.
JON. BREWSTER came in to-day from the Athabasca river where he has been mining this spring. He brought in $177 as the result of days work of himself and wife. This is the first time that gold has been worked to pay on the Athabasca. C. Sandison and W. Alexander were working on the same bar as Mr. Brewster and are on their way in by way of Athabasca Landing. They were driven off the bar by high water. Fred Walter and T. The Minnow arrived from Degagne's quarry on Sunday about 2 p. m. with a load of blue limestone to be used to cap the stone foundation of the Catholic hospital. The run down was made in five hours without accident. She will go back to-morrow taking the barge which is lying at the electric light works. No lime has been burned at the quarry yet, but a kiln will be started as soon as the steamer goes back.

The Washington weather bureau in its review of crop conditions for the week ended, May 29, during which there have been frequent frosts, says: The exceptionally cold weather of the past week has been very unfavorable for most crops, and widespread injury has been done by frosts which have been general throughout the northern and central portions of the country as far south as the northern portions of Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

Commercial: Tobacco of excellent quality can be grown in Manitoba as easily as cabbage can be produced. The Menonites, ever since they settled in the province, have grown their own tobacco, and with the quality they are quite satisfied. The French Canadians who occupy a portion of the hill country north of the Pembina raise most excellent tobacco for their own use. Early in the spring the seeds are placed in earth contained in boxes, which are kept within doors in a warm situation. When the season has advanced and danger from frost is no longer feared, the young plants are set out in the garden about four feet apart. The leaves soon become enormously large and the plant carries a red flower. When sufficiently matured the leaves are pulled from the stalks and allowed to wilt in the bud, and afterwards are placed in piles when a slight heating process takes place and gives a dark color to the tobacco. The leaves are further dried and are twisted into plugs or rolled into cigars. So large is the leaf of the tobacco plant that two or three cigars can be prepared from each.

SPRING GROVE.

The rain of Monday last was very much welcomed by settlers in general, they having finished seeding. But the frost of Tuesday and Wednesday morning was not at all so welcome. However no very serious damage appears to have been done beyond injuring some garden truck and giving some of the grain crops a slight setback.

Preparations for breaking are being made by a number of settlers and a large amount of land is likely to be broken this season.

It is expected that some further improvements are to be made on 14th line shortly, which the travelling public will no doubt appreciate as the present trail is fenced off in several places and causes much inconvenience if not annoyance. It is hoped our M. L. A.'s will do their utmost in building the balance of said line and give us the most direct road to Edmonton.

A plowing match open to the world will be held on the farm of John A. McPherson, of 36-52-27, on Friday, June the 14th, next, to commence at 1 o'clock p. m. sharp. All plows used to be not more than 14 inch cut. Open to horse, mule or ox teams. A reasonable allowance to be made for teams. The work to be judged by one or more disinterested, but practical ploughmen, and two or more prizes will be given. A small entrance fee to be charged each competitor. Refreshments will be served in the evening of the day of the match.

May 30th, 1895.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN, ALBERTA.
The bush fires in the Beaver hills have done a great deal of damage. James Atkins has lost 4 buildings and logs for another and rails to fence in his quarter section. George Ross lost his log dwelling and frame addition and also his stables. Joseph Hackett, of Beaver Creek, had a granary and some implements burned.

The settlers of Edna district celebrated the 24th by having athletic sports and horse racing and had an enjoyable time generally. All country points which are too far away from the larger centres should follow suit on public holiday.

A new school house has been erected by the settlers near Edna, and the way in which it was erected is an example for other districts to follow, namely, instead of raising debentures, they called a meeting and decided to build it themselves and allow each man $1.25 per day and man and team $2.50 per day and deduct from their taxes. The logs and material were got when not busy in the winter, and to-day they have a commodious building at a total cost of about $150.

Mr. Tims, M. L. A., after quite a little correspondence on the subject, has we understand, received word from the minister of the interior, that the trails through the Beaver hills from Beaver lake, have not been overlooked by the department, and are likely to become realities shortly. It is hard for the public to understand why so much delay takes place over matters which are so important to the settlers living away from their markets and also for the general benefit of intending settlers. Colonization roads are the most important public works in any new country and it is to be hoped that immediate steps will be taken to open up all direct routes throughout Northern Alberta. Good direct roads are the most important emigration inducements that can be held out.

President Forbes has received a number of handsome silver spoons for the rifle association competitions.

The Edmonton sports on 24th and 25th are highly spoken of by our citizens who attended them.

We notice an error in the BULLETIN report of foot ball match. The captain of the Saskatchewan team was R. G. Hardisty and not Mr. F. Adamson.

Messrs. Hetu & Chave are opening up a large lumber yard.

The weather has been cold and windy lately, but crops are all reported looking well.

May 27th, 1895.

CORRESPONDENCE.

EDITOR BULLETIN.

DEAR SIR: I have frequently been asked to give some account of the Peace River country, its capabilities for farm and stock raising purposes. What I will say will be of the nature to encourage those more favorably situated for markets and other conveniences, as are the farmers in the Edmonton district; and here I would like to see some of my eastern friends start their plow and stop rooting up the rocks and stones yonder. Horace Greely said "go west young man," and Uncle Ira used to say, the best place for a man was "where he was." I think they were both not far from the truth, and after taking the advice of the former I shall try and hold to Uncle's. The question arises regarding the fitness for pioneer life of those looking towards the more distant places. In this the parties themselves and they only, are the best judges and will desire to push far back for more room and on no account would go back to the old life and its ways. I speak from experience though I have learned to wait, but could never sit down and wait. We long to return to those scenes, to camp on those old grounds, and once more be floating down that mighty river that has been so long our highway. How gladly the old timer returns to his camp to be met by those that have shared his toils and joys and that have helped so bravely to turn poverty into plenty,—those once boys and girls now taking father's place. Here was once hard times, and in fact we have never seen easy times. No doubt through such we were better prepared for the hardships incident to this work, for in our case a few years at this early work was a struggle though a happy one, and how truly does the reward come to those who by patient continuance in well-doing overcome. How much that signifies to the northerner, and with us some of it is yet in process, and what is to be the result? Let us think of our forefathers and what they had to endure when Canada was in the woods and emulate their example. And we need not go back so far, but take many of our friends of to-day struggling along upon those old paths that I spent unclouded's brightest days in and grew prematurely old in making a living. Now the hardest time that we have ever seen in the north has been and is preferred to their best, and with those times of plenty, to-day seems more like play than work. No digging and hauling stone from the little plowed field that once looked so large, yes, and that pile of potatoes in the corner and the grain up stairs. All have changed appearances now, the soil, how different, the climate, what a change; and what a multiplication of domestic animal life—still they come. Also by the slight turn of the wrist, and movement of some of the muscles, land turns over, hay and grain piles up and does not get out of sight the way it used to when we got the chicken feed from behind the mill. Would I, you ask, go back to those old times, places and conditions? Our prairie life and work is play in comparison. What have those been doing in their former days, that now within less than a score of miles from railway and town and many other civilized conveniences thrown in, still think they have something to suffer that is hardly endurable. Such is life. Not long ago a person told me that when they were out on their farm, they had to rise on Sunday morning as early as five o'clock to be in season for meeting, and by the time they arrived in town were completely tired out. I have much sympathy for that class and have noticed that when you come to checkerboard men and women out on the prairies they soon show what class they belong to and their early training. Land not properly cultivated, we surmise is the cause and effect of poor homes as well as crops. And then again poor teams, and more poor ploughing, especially when there is a mortgage on the team and plow not paid for. Let us call a halt to the systems so much in vogue and—to use some northerly parlance—to buy on the jaw bone. It don't pay, I tried it when a boy and that is one of the mistakes that I do not intend to make the second time. The pay as we go system and then when we get there, we are there, all over and to stay if we wish. We hear it frequently that there is no money in farming now, and still use the money a year or two before we earn it. Now in this way of having a place for the dollars long before we can guess which road they will come in on we will certainly still hold to the belief that there is no money for ourselves in farming. Another leak that we suffer from an enormous extent, is the careless exposure to the elements of not only the most valuable, but all kinds and conditions of articles used about the farm, and this habit alone is enough to kill the prosperity of 99 per cent. of our prairie farmers. Frequently our attention has been directed to the benefits of cold water and also to cold storage room especially with the dairy business. The cheap method that we have adopted in the north could be applied to advantage and profit wherever there is a few weeks of cold, every twelve months. Our plan is to have the well which has a depth of only 17ft. left open enough in winter to take in all the cold that there is room for, and then keep closed in summer and the result, ice water all the year. The cold room is upon the same terms, a capacious, cellar, as desired and under building, ours 10x10 and 9ft. deep and stairway to suit, ventilation on two opposite sides to give a large draught of cold air in winter, and then seal up, and here is a room that will keep you from melting, try it.

Don't Read This
Until you have time to think it over. I am selling Hardware, Groceries, Dry-Goods, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Crockery, etc., cheaper than they were ever sold before in this country. Competition is not in sight with my prices. The stock will not last long. Why not take advantage of it while it lasts? Don't pay a dollar when you can get better value from me for 75c. Fort Saskatchewan has no bridge question on hand yet but the question of cheap prices interests us all.
